

ENGLISH

University of Northern Iowa College of Humanities, Arts & Sciences

<https://langlit.uni.edu/>

ABOUT THE MAJOR

A degree in English fosters critical and creative interaction with languages, literatures, and cultures. Guided by a faculty of educators, scholars, writers, and editors at UNI, students seek to answer the persistent questions of humanity that are heard across times and places, while they develop their own ability to communicate. Studying English prepares students for a diverse range of professional fields including teaching, journalism, law, publishing, medicine, and the fine arts.

SAMPLE COURSEWORK

Critical Writing about Literature	The Structure of English
Survey of American Lit	Secondary Educational Technology and Design
Multicultural Literature	History of the English Language
Craft of Creative Nonfiction

POSSIBLE CAREERS *some titles may require further education

Technical Writing	Librarian	Human Resources	High School Teacher
Public Relations Specialist	Social Media Manager	Fundraising Specialist	Publisher
Lawyer	Editor	News Reporter	Journalist
Grant Writer	Content Manager	Author	Copywriter

UNI GRADUATES: WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

- University of Northern Iowa
- John Deere
- Principal Financial Group
- University of Iowa
- Des Moines Public Schools
- Cedar Falls Public Library
- Wells Fargo
- Financial Decisions Group
- Central Rivers AEA
- North American Review
- VGM Insurance
- Northwestern Mutual
- Mount Vernon High School
- Upper Iowa University

SKILLS NEEDED

- Critical thinking
- Communication skills
- Storytelling
- Spelling
- Grammar
- Comprehensive Reading
- Active learning
- Creativity
- Analytical thinking
- Close attention to detail

HOLLAND CODES

AEI