Phone: 319-273-3406 - a desk assistant will help you set up a time that works best for you. Due to double booking of appointments, we do not set up appointments via email.

The Purpose of Academic Advising

The Office of Academic Advising engages students through transitions, connections, and resources.

Academic Advising Learning Outcomes

By working with your academic advisor during your first year at UNI, you will:

1. Learn the Liberal Arts Core, academic introductory courses and requirements.
2. Discover your strengths, skills, values, and abilities.
3. Understand your academic success, connect with campus resources, and support systems.
4. Engage with faculty, staff, and students. Participate in organizations, clubs, and activities in our inclusive community.
5. Explore career and professional resources to develop a personalized plan for your academic, career, and life goals.

Advisee and Advisor Responsibilities

Students will...

- Create and maintain an advising file to bring with you to any advising meeting or event
- Initiate and maintain regular contact with me including scheduling and attending advising appointments
- Come prepared to each meeting with questions or materials for discussion
- Be an active learner and participant in the advising experience...ask questions and see me if you have difficulties or something you do not understand.
- Discuss any problems affecting your academic performance
- Make use of referrals to campus resources
- Be open and willing to consider advice from faculty, advisors, and other mentors
- Attend all Academic Advising group meetings or sessions for your major
- Make decisions based on personal interests and ideas and take ownership for decisions

Advisors will...

- Teach Liberal Arts Core, degree requirements, and university policy and procedures
- Listen to your concerns and respect your individual values and choices
- Maintain confidentiality – adhere to the guidelines set by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act
- Empower and guide you in defining your academic, career, and personal goals and assist you in creating an educational plan that is consistent with those goals
- Encourage you to think critically, seek out resources, and take action steps
- Assist you in assessing your academic performance to determine if it is consistent with your plans
- Match your needs with resources; make appropriate referrals when necessary
- Be accessible for advising meetings (in groups or individually), telephone, or e-mail and provide follow up as necessary
