

I HAVE AN INTEREST IN

WORKING WITH CHILDREN

PSYCHOLOGY

Psychology is the study of human and animal behavior (normal and abnormal) and the cognitive, emotional, social, and biological processes related to that behavior.

SOCIAL WORK

Students will develop the skills and knowledge to work with a diverse population. Graduates of the social work program find jobs in child and adolescent social work, family practice, probation and parole, medical social work, and working with the aged.

RECREATION TOURISM & NONPROFIT LEADERSHIP

RTNL focuses on preparing individuals with the skills, knowledge, and values required to effectively assume professional leadership/managerial positions in the areas of leisure, recreation, parks, therapeutic recreation, tourism, youth, and human service settings.

FAMILY SERVICES

The discipline of Family Studies explores patterns of family functioning and how relationship processes and other contextual factors influence individual development and behavior.

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Students will learn to teach and work with children from infants through elementary. This program provides teacher candidates with the opportunity to gain the knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary for becoming teachers who are responsible, reflective decision-makers in a global society.

COMMUNICATION DISORDERS

Students will first focus on the basic anatomy and physiology of speech and auditory systems. Students will then move into treatment and diagnosis of problems in speech and hearing. The undergraduate major in Communication Disorders is designed to provide the academic preparation and experiences required for admission into a graduate program in Speech-Language Pathology or Audiology.
